

HOLIDAY FOR LADS OF NAVY

Recommended by Secretary Daniels in First Annual Report

BUILDING PROGRAMME

Includes Two Dreadnaughts, Eight Destroyers and Three Submarines Each Year—Not Large But Progressive.

(Associated Press Telegram)
Washington, Dec. 1.—Two dreadnaughts, eight destroyers and three submarines, is the yearly naval building programme Secretary Daniels recommends in his first annual report to President Wilson. While such a programme is somewhat less than recommended by the Navy General Board, principally because Mr. Daniels believes it is as heavy as the revenues of the government will permit, he believes it is a progressive one which will meet the demand to go forward in the continuation of an adequate and well proportioned navy.

Second only in interest to the Secretary's building programme, is an endorsement of Winston Churchill's proposed "Naval Holiday" will, a recommendation that the United States take the initiative and that President Wilson ask congress to authorize him to invite all the powers to a conference to discuss the project.

Regarding his building programme, Secretary Daniels says: "The wise naval policy for the United States at this time is to find the golden mean. It can not wisely by itself reduce the construction of dreadnaughts or compete with other great powers in burdening taxpayers to hasten the construction of a navy larger than our conditions demand. The estimates of the navy department show a decrease in the ordinary expenditures. The program of the department may be summed up in the phrase: 'More money afloat and less ashore.' I therefore recommend the authorization by the present congress of the following building program:

"Two dreadnaughts
"Eight destroyers
"Three submarines.
"This is not, it will be observed, a large program, but it is a progressive one. It meets the demand to go forward in the continuation of an adequate and well proportioned navy. We have now under construction six battleships of the largest and most approved type.
"With the authorization of two of the largest battleships ever constructed, before the close of the present administration, the United States will have enough ships to have always a creditable and capable fleet in both the Pacific and Atlantic oceans. These, together with the smaller ships under construction will make the American navy one of strength and power, ready for the protection of American shores and American interests. A steady build-

DEVINE GETS PRISON TERM IN MICHIGAN

(Associated Press Telegram)
Pontiac, Mich., Dec. 1.—David I. Devine, a telephone operator, who was recently arrested at Cleveland, O., pleaded guilty to the charge of bigamy in circuit court here today. He was sentenced to Jackson prison to serve a term of from two and one-half to five years. County authorities stated during the court proceedings that their investigation indicated Devine was married to seven women.

Devine made Newark his home for several months, having been employed in this city as an operator. While here he courted and married Miss Kennick, deserting her a few weeks after the wedding.

300 WOMEN SEEK JOBS AS COPS

(Associated Press Telegram)
Chicago, Dec. 1.—The lonely prairie beat, the turbulence of wayfaring bacchanals, the menace of marauders—these and other incidents of a police career have no terrors for at least 300 Chicago women who appeared at the city hall today for examination as to their fitness for police women. At present there are only ten such positions to fill but there will be more of them.

Government's Suit Against Butter and Egg Board of Chicago Occurs This Week

(Associated Press Telegram)
Chicago, Dec. 1.—The suit of the federal government charging the Chicago Butter and Egg board with violation of the anti-trust law, will be brought to trial here this week it was announced today by James H. Wilkerson, United States district attorney in this city.

The determination to rush the case to trial came on the heels of a report by C. B. Morrison, master in chancery, favoring the contention of the government that the quotations committee of the board arbitrarily fixed the price of butter and eggs.

The suit was filed a year ago and shortly after the board voted to abolish the committee.

News of the early trial was received with satisfaction by clubwomen engaged in an egg boycott, although it was not evident to them that the case would affect the price of eggs.

Mrs. John C. Bley, leader of the boycott in this city said today that her plan of bringing in eggs from the country direct to the consumer, could not be put into effect immediately.

"The farmers are not educated to the opportunities of the parcel post," she said, "but we have begun a campaign in that direction which should bear fruit by next summer, or at the latest by this season next year."

The wholesale price of eggs technically classed as "ordinary firsts," declined 3 to 5 cents in South Water street today, as compared with last Saturday, although there was no material increase in receipts.

Dealers would not say that the drop was due to the boycott, but the women derived much satisfaction from it.

The Indianapolis Crowds Were Kept On the Move

(Associated Press Telegram)
Indianapolis, Dec. 1.—Disorder, but not serious rioting, resulted today from the strike of teamsters and chauffeurs which started last night. Many wagons were on the streets but Organizer T. J. Farrell, of the union, declared all would be stopped by nightfall. The police made a number of arrests and used their clubs freely in keeping the crowd in the downtown section on the move.

Four girl garment workers were included in the larger number of arrests. The girls, with several companions, had surrounded a laundry wagon and prevented it moving until the police arrived. The four were released on small bonds. All the men taken in custody are being held under $1000 bond which has been set for all strikers arrested.

With the exception of some trouble at a coal yard in Irvington, a suburb, practically all of the disorder has been staged in the downtown district.

Several wholesale dealers and commission house men made no effort to put their wagons on the streets today. Many are using express companies and parcel post to make deliveries.

(Associated Press Telegram)
Indianapolis, Dec. 1.—Mayor Wallace established headquarters at the police station early today and said he would take personal charge of the police department until the strike of the union teamsters and chauffeurs, which began at midnight last night, is settled. He said he had 100 mounted policemen and 400 patrolmen and expected to be able to handle the situation without assistance from the state.

In addition to the extra squads of police that patrolled the business district and kept the crowds on the move, more than 250 citizens, including some of the most prominent business men of Indianapolis, who were sworn in last night as a special reserve force, awaited an emergency call at Tomlinson Hall, where they had established headquarters. Thos. J. Farrell, general organizer of the union said the strike order had been obeyed generally. "Our union is opposed to acts of violence," said Farrell. "There is no reason for lawlessness and I hope that there will be none."

Teamsters and their friends were busy today harassing drivers who ventured out with teams, and a large number of arrests were made. In several instances, wagons were stopped and, while some of the strikers argued with the drivers, other unhitched the horses before the police could arrive.

Several attempts to congregate in the downtown business district were quickly frustrated by the mounted police. Whenever two or three men would linger for a moment, they were told to move on by the mounted officers and if they did not hurry, the police used their new long hickory riot clubs freely. Several pedestrians were beaten over the head and shoulders but none was seriously injured.

U. S. OFFICIALS ASK DELAY IN ZELAYA CASE

(Associated Press Telegram)
New York, Dec. 1.—Arguments on the writ of habeas corpus obtained in behalf of General Zelaya, ex-president of Nicaragua, held in jail here on a warrant charging "murder and other crimes," was adjourned today until Friday next. The adjournment, according to counsel for Zelaya, was taken at the request of authorities at Washington. Extradition papers not having arrived from Nicaragua, the prisoner's examination in extradition proceedings to have been held today, was also adjourned until Friday next.

CHARGES CONSPIRACY.

(Associated Press Telegram)
Washington, Dec. 1.—Postponement of today's hearing in the Zelaya case was at the instance of Zelaya's counsel here to afford Solicitor Folk of the state department an opportunity to pass upon allegations that the secret to secure the extradition of Zelaya is political and that certain financial interests are involved in an attempt to suppress the activities of the late president.

There was a suggestion among counsel in the case today that the proceedings might be dropped if Zelaya would agree to return to Barcelona, Spain. It was said that the Nicaraguan government would be satisfied if assurance were given that Zelaya would not be permitted to gain a foothold where he would be able to foment trouble in the scene of his former activities.

CHICAGO WILL HAVE A QUIET NEW YEAR'S EVE

(Associated Press Telegram)
Chicago, Dec. 1.—No horns, confetti or hickory will be allowed on the streets here New Year's eve, according to an order issued today by Mayor Harrison. Sale of the articles will be prohibited. Mr. Harrison said he issued the notice now so that dealers might not offer the plea that the law laid in a large stock of the nuisances.

SPEAKERS ARE SELECTED FOR SCHOOL MEET

(Associated Press Telegram)
Columbus, Dec. 1.—Governor Cox conferred today with State School Commissioner Miller and H. L. Britton, who had charge of the school survey work regarding the program for the "educational convention which will be held in Columbus, December 5 and 6.

"The convention will be one of the largest, if not the largest of its kind ever held," said Governor Cox at the conclusion of the conference. "Our information is to the effect that there will be 4,000 or more delegates."

Philander P. Claxton, of Washington, commissioner of education, will be one of the principal speakers. Mr. Monahan, rural school expert of Washington, also will be a speaker.

STRIKER SHOT WHILE GOING TO HIS WORK

(Associated Press Telegram)
Philadelphia, Dec. 1.—A garment worker on his way to work today was shot, probably fatally, by an unidentified man who fired from the window of a taxicab. The wounded man is Harry Schulnick. With four other garment workers who had been on strike but who had returned to work, Schulnick was being escorted by a city detective when a taxicab dashed up and one of the occupants began firing. After emptying a revolver, the cab sped away. Two suspects, who gave New York addresses, believed to be fictitious, were arrested.

CHILD LABOR LAW IS CONSTITUTIONAL

(Associated Press Telegram)
Washington, Dec. 1.—The Illinois child labor law was today sustained as constitutional by the Supreme court.

CONGRESS READY FOR PROBLEMS

Called to Order at Noon Today for Regular December Session

MESSAGE OF PRESIDENT

Will Be Delivered by Chief Executive Tuesday Afternoon at 1 O'clock Before Joint Session of the Two Houses.

(Associated Press Telegram)
Washington, Dec. 1.—A new session of congress, the second in President Wilson's administration began work today at noon.

Vice-president Marshall as the noon hour arrived, declared the old session adjourned "without day" and in the next breath, announced that congress had assembled "in accordance with the constitution," informally marked the opening in the house.

The Rev. Henry Coudercy offered prayer, referring with particular emphasis to "the great economic and social problems which concern the welfare of the individual, the home, the government and religious life of the nation." A roll call disclosed a quorum, something the house has not had in many weeks.

The senate began the session with its first day's work already mapped out. Debate on the Hatch-Hetchy bill began at once. It was expected that the revised draft of the currency bill would be presented late today and would be debated during intermission in the discussion over the water bill.

The program of the senate Democrats on the currency bill was not at once enforced and the Republicans were given a full tomorrow to confer, following an announcement by Senator Gallinger that there was no disposition to obstruct progress of the bill.

(Associated Press Telegram)
Washington, Dec. 1.—Congress today settled down to the second stage of what promises to be the longest continuous session in its history. The regular December session, following without a break upon the heels of the long extra session that has run since April 7, brought the tired lawmakers today a new host of problems, and the prospect of steady work for many months.

There was little formality about the ushering in of the new congress at noon. Its advent was signaled by the fall of the gavel in each house, with the announcement of the presiding officer that the second session of the 63rd congress had begun.

A widespread demand for tickets for the house gallery for tomorrow's session indicated the interest that centers about President Wilson's re-appearance at the capitol to deliver a presidential address. The president will read his first general message to congress at a joint session of the two houses at 1 o'clock tomorrow and it is expected he will touch upon many of the problems to be taken up at the new session.

The senate practically merged the old session into the new one by meeting at 10 o'clock today to wind up the work of the dying session.

Vice-president Marshall who had been absent for several weeks was in his place again as presiding officer. Democratic leaders were prepared to push the currency bill forward as the chief business and to hold the senate in daily sessions from 10 o'clock in the morning until 11 o'clock at night until it is disposed of. While the Senate is working on currency legislation and disposing of the Hatch-Hetchy water supply bill, during the early days of the new session the house will start work upon the general appropriation bill carrying more than $1,000,000,000 of funds for the needs of the government during the year that begins next July.

The annual estimates made by the treasury department were presented to the house when it assembled at noon. Preliminary work by the various legislative committees has brought several of the supply bills near completion, and an effort will be made to pass the $1,000,000,000 bill of Columbia bill and the fortification appropriation bill before Christmas. Democratic members of the senate worked all day yesterday to complete their agreement on the currency bill so that the measure might be pushed for immediate consideration today. Senate leaders here that by holding the Senate to long hours the bill may be passed in time to permit a short recess at the holidays. If it has not been acted upon the senate will forego all vacation except on Christmas Day.

When the senate met Democratic leaders had agreed that the currency subject would not be taken up before noon.

Ten postmaster of small points were the only ones confirmed and the senate recessed until 11:30 o'clock.

George T. Oliver, Senator From Pennsylvania.

A rock-ribbed bulwark of stand-pat Republicanism, Senator Oliver, the successor of Philander C. Knox in the upper house of Congress, is one of the strongest men in that body. Senator Oliver is a quiet multi-millionaire who rarely speaks unless he has something very important on his mind. He is a former wire and steel magnate and owns the Pittsburgh Gazette-Times and Pittsburgh Chronicle-Telegraph. He has been president of the Pittsburgh Central Board of Education, once committed the almost unheard of act of declining an appointment to the Senate when Matthew Stanley Quay died. Oliver is a native Irishman, but everybody lost sight of that years ago when he began forging to the front in the manufacturing and political life of his state.

USE SMOKE TO DRIVE BANDIT FROM REFUGE

(Associated Press Telegram)
Bingham, Utah, Dec. 1.—Smudges were lighted early today in the Utah-Apex mine, where Ralph Lopez, a desperado, is making his last stand. With all exits to the mine except that of the Andy tunnel bricked and sealed with mud and with poisonous gases floating back into the depths of the workings, it was expected that the fugitive would make a break for liberty today.

A large amount of dynamite is stored in the mine and knowing Lopez could easily blow out one of the bulkheads, the seven sheriffs early today stationed a dozen deputies at each of the fifteen tunnel mouths with orders to shoot him on sight. The 10,000 inhabitants of this canyon-walled mining town, deep in drifts of snow were waiting in tense excitement for the denouement of the man hunt that already has cost six lives. On Nov. 21 Lopez killed a Mexican miner and later in the day he killed the chief of police and two deputies who pursued him. After a chase through several counties he back-tracked to Bingham and took refuge in the Utah-Apex mine where he killed two more deputies last Saturday.

RIBBON WEAVERS WILL QUIT JOBS

(Associated Press Telegram)
Paterson, N. J., Dec. 1.—The prospect of another strike of weavers faced the silk mills of Paterson today. The crisis was expected at 5 o'clock, the hour set by 6,000 ribbon weavers for effecting their plan to change the working day from ten to nine hours without reduction in wages. Heretofore the weavers have quit at 6 o'clock Wednesday today they planned to leave the machines at five.

Seventy-five per cent. of the ribbon weavers, it was announced, were pledged to carry out the change. Employers oppose the move and the ribbon weavers have announced that they would strike if they were not permitted to effect the change or if their weekly wages were reduced in consequence. The dress and broad-silks weavers are not affected.

BANDIT GAGS AGENT AND GETS $700 IN CASH

(Associated Press Telegram)
Chicago, Dec. 1.—An armed bandit entered a suburban station of the Lake Shore and Michigan Southern railroad today, bound and gagged the agent and escaped with $700 of the company's money.

The attack was made at 8 o'clock when hundreds of commuters came to the station to take trains. The robber acted a moment after a crowd had boarded a train for the business district.

SUFFRAGISTS IN SESSION; SEEK BALLOT

(Associated Press Telegram)
Washington, Dec. 1.—The forty-fifth annual convention of the National American Woman Suffrage association got fully under way here today with Dr. Anna Howard Shaw presiding over an assembly of nearly 1,000 delegates from all states of the Union. The gavel fell in the women's convention at the same time Vice President Marshall and Speaker Clark were calling to order on Capital Hill, a congress which the suffragists expect to do much for their cause.

A constitutional amendment extending the ballot to women throughout the nation is the goal for which a week of meetings, speeches and hearings before committees of congress will work.

Addresses of welcome and reports of officers and committees took up the time of the first session today.

ARE INDIGNANT OVER CONDUCT OF OFFICERS

(Associated Press Telegram)
Berlin, Dec. 1.—So intense and general is the indignation among the German people over the conduct of the military authorities of the garrison town of Zabern in Alsace that Dr. Von Bethmann Hollweg, imperial chancellor appeared in parliament today to make a preliminary announcement of the government's intention. He promised to go to the full extremity of his power in putting an end to the lamentable conditions prevailing in Zabern.

"A full statement," he said, "will be made as soon as the official inquiry has ended. This probably will be Dec. 20. The report will give you full assurance that the authority of the law is to be maintained."

The chancellor's speech today and Emperor William's statement yesterday admonishing the troops of the Danube-Alsace garrison to cultivate good relations with the civilian population, are interpreted as indications that the zeal of the army officers at Zabern has not found favor in the highest quarters.

Major General Erich Von Falkenhayn, minister of war and lieutenant general Baron Moritz Von Lyncker, chief of the military cabinet, were received in audience by the emperor as Donau-Alsace today morning. They reported to him the details of the occurrence at Zabern.

STRIKERS RETURN TO THEIR WORK

(Associated Press Telegram)
Schenectady, N. Y., Dec. 1.—Normal conditions prevailed today in and about the big plant of the General Electric company. Practically all of the 11,000 strikers who walked out last Tuesday, returned to their benches this morning. It is estimated that the strikers lost $175,000 in wages while they were out.

HUERTA LEAVES CAPITAL

Absence Gave Rise to a Rumor That He Had Left for Vera Cruz

WAS VISITING A FARM

In the Vicinity of Mexican Capital—Predicted That the Federals Will Take the City of Torreon.

(Associated Press Telegram)
Mexico City, Dec. 1.—Provisional President Huerta, whose disappearance from the Federal capital gave rise to many rumors today, returned this afternoon. He had been paying a visit to a farm in the vicinity.

(Associated Press Telegram)
Mexico City, Dec. 1.—Provisional President Huerta is reported to have left the Federal capital secretly yesterday morning for Vera Cruz, traveling over the Inter-oceanic railroad. The report originates with railroad officials, who claim to know of General Huerta's departure at four o'clock in the morning on board a special train. The presence of Querido Mohna, the Mexican foreign minister at the Port of Vera Cruz is said to have some connection with the plan of General Huerta to leave the country.

Investigation failed to discover any trace of Provisional President Huerta in the Federal capital. No official confirmation of his departure was obtainable.

The city of Torreon which has long been in the hands of the Rebels is about to be taken by Federals under General Jose Velasco, according to dispatches received by the war department today. The Federal troops are said to have encountered little opposition in their advance on the city and are reported to be now within a few miles of the place. The military authorities say the re-occupation of Torreon will be a great blow to the revolution as the city is the key to operations in four states. It is on the border of the state of Coahuila.

General Velasco has been instructed to move at once upon the city of Durango after taking possession of Torreon.

Rear Admiral Sir Christopher Cradock, commander of the British cruisers now in Mexican waters, who arrived in the Federal capital last night expects to return to Vera Cruz tomorrow. He said today that he probably would be unable to meet President Huerta, because of the brevity of his stay. The admiral with his secretary and flag lieutenant was the guest today of Sir Lionel Carden, the British minister.

PRES. WILSON SAYS NO DEVELOPMENT IS CONTEMPLATED

(Associated Press Telegram)
Washington, Dec. 1.—President Wilson observed to callers today that the Mexican factions seemed to be running things in a very interesting way at present and that no development was contemplated so far as the United States was concerned. His visitors believed he had in mind the increasing number of Constitutional victories and the rapidly diminishing zone of control of the Huerta government.

William B. Hale, who talked with General Carranza and the Constitutional chief at Noxales, returned here early today and will see the president late today or tomorrow.

Officially nothing was known at the White House concerning the visit of Querido Mohna, the Mexican foreign minister to Vera Cruz. He has not conferred with John Lind, according to information here today. The policy of the American government continues to be one of waiting, while the financial blockade weakens the resources of the Huerta regime and the Constitutionalists press forward their vigorous campaign.

MEXICAN CAPITAL IS DESTINATION SAYS GEN. VILLA

(Associated Press Telegram)
Tlaxcala, Mexico, Dec. 1.—General Francisco Villa, Constitutional leader states that northern Mexico, embracing the states of Sonora, Chihuahua, Coahuila, Nuevo Leon and Tamaulipas, and including the territory from the border to a line 500 miles southward, will be wholly under the authority of the rebel forces within two weeks. The forces which are fighting Huerta will then join at Guadalajara with a view of marching on to Mexico City.

This campaign, he said, contemplated not only the capture of Chihuahua City, and also the spreading of the Constitutional authority further south. He is to be joined in the interior later by General Carranza, the

"Birthday" of the Two Oldest Motor Cars Now in Existence

This week marks the "birthdays" of the two oldest motor cars in existence. The oldest is a French car which was purchased by the mayor of Troyes, in the Champagne district of France, on Dec. 4, 1891, so it will be twenty-two years old on Thursday. The second oldest automobile in active service is also a French car, which was completed on Nov. 30, 1893, and so was twenty years old yesterday.

The present owner of the world's most ancient motor car is the Abbe Gavois, of Renneville, in the Somme district of France. He bought the crude contrivance from the mayor of Troyes, its original owner, in 1894. The cure loaned his machine to the British Motor association for its last exhibition, where it attracted more attention than any of the newest models. The prelate was given a modern car to use while the old one was on display, but he asserted that he much preferred the ancient vintage automobile.

According to the cure, the oldest car has required but one overhauling since it came into his possession, and had never been in the hands of the repair man at the time he bought it. He asserts that the car has been on the road every day until it was sent to the English exhibition.

The relic of a past age of automobile building has a speed of 12 miles an hour, which is quite sufficient for the needs of a country clergyman. Its tires are of steel, and, while this has its disadvantages, the cure has never had to spend a cent in upkeep. The motor is a two-cylinder affair, and consumes comparatively little gasoline. An English automobile journal says of this patriarch among cars: "A layer of grease was applied to the gears; occasionally they were washed out with kerosene; but for 21 years they have been turning in a bath of grease and dust. When they were dismantled for the overhauling of the car recently, they were found still to have several years of useful life. A short jack shaft is driven by means of a pair of bevel gears, and the final drive is taken to the rear axle by means of a single exposed chain. Tiller steering is fitted, and all four wheels are wood with steel tires."

So far as longevity and cost of upkeep are concerned, many owners of modern high-priced cars will envy the Abbe of Renneville.

MUCH INTEREST IN REGULAR SESSION

By ARTHUR W. BUNN.
Washington, Dec. 1.—[Special.]—Interest in the opening of the regular session of congress was lessened on account of the many speeches the special session has been sitting. Although the assembling of a regular session is much like all that have gone before, the first Monday in December is sure to bring out a crowd, create a sort of congressional jubilation and give the impression that the lawmakers are going to "start something."

It has been unusual, and only in one instance has it happened in half a century, for a special session to come right smack up against a regular session, and that in itself made a diversion worth the attention of the thousands who thronged the capitol on the opening day.

Annual Message in Person.

President Wilson decided to deliver his annual message in person, which makes the opening more interesting. Three different times before the president has appeared at the capitol with a message which he called an "address." It is somewhat different this time, because an annual message has always been considered a rather fearsome thing of thousands of words of dreary review of the year's work in the federal departments. The annual message this year covers the subjects which the president wants to impress upon congress.

"There's a Reason."

Perhaps this is the solution of the determination of the president to adopt the personal method of communicating with congress. For years it has been a joke that senators and members sleep or desert the chamber when the message of the president is being read. It is not only a joke, but a fact, that neither senators nor representatives would listen to the long winded messages which presidents have been in the habit of sending in to be read at the beginning of a term of congress. They have to listen while the president reads a message.

Week's Work Ahead.

The senate long ago mapped out a week's work. It fixed a time for a vote on the Hatch-Hatch water bill for Dec. 6, and as there has developed a desire to debate the measure the senators have been getting ready to talk about this grant to San Francisco. Since the time was fixed for taking a vote a great deal of opposition has sprung up, and the opponents have been making considerable headway.

Clear Calendars.

The house does things differently. When that body passes under the hands of real leadership it stays there. The leaders told the committees not to report bills. The Democratic caucus confirmed that edict, and as a result the house, although it has been in session since April 7, has not enough business on the calendars to read a gun or keep the members busy for a day.

No doubt the embargo will be raised and the committees will now begin to work upon the important matters that have been pending for a long time. There are bills enough, goodness knows, to make food for the legislative hopper until another year rolls around—that is, if anything should happen to keep congress in continuous session again.

Many Absent Members.

Knowing that congress will not do much until after the holiday recess, those members who went away during the last two months of the old session did not all return, nor will those who were here remain long after answering to their names. There is a hint that the coming session may be troubled by absenteeism, but the temper of the leaders is such as to indicate that means for compelling attendance will be taken if absent members delay the business of the regular session.

Another Investigation.

Beyond question there will be another investigation, this time into the cold storage and high food prices. Before the late Senator Heyburn of Idaho closed his career he started an investigation into cold storage which promised results. Since that time nothing has been done. The committee which had it in charge has held no meetings, the data he collected have been ignored, and, in fact, nothing has been attempted in the way of getting action on cold storage by congress. Perhaps the present investigation may bring results, but it takes persistence in such matters to achieve anything really worthwhile.

Appropriation Bills.

The house will try to rush its appropriation bills, although there is really not much use in trying to hurry the session in that way. The senate has enough business before it to keep it going for several months and will have no time for appropriation bills until next spring.

Today in Pugilistic Annals

1905—Young Peter Jackson held Jack Johnson to a draw in 12 rounds at Baltimore. Young Peter, although not in the same class with the great Peter Jackson who boxed Jim Corbett to a 61-round draw, was still a good fighter, and after one experience Johnson didn't manifest any great desire for another meeting. In the same year Young Peter fought a 17-round draw with Sam Langford, and in 1906 whipped Samuel in five rounds, and was defeated by Sam in 13 rounds. Sam and Young fought again in 1907, when Sam won on points in 20 rounds.

1908—Tommy Murphy outpointed Paddy Sullivan in six rounds at Birmingham.

ORIGIN OF NAMES OF OHIO CITIES

There are just 17 Newark post-offices in United States. That is, exclusive of the proposed new one for Newark, Ohio. An exchange has gone to the trouble of compiling a list of several Ohio towns with an attempted explanation of the origin of their names. Newark is one. The name is said to have been transferred from Newark-upon-Trent, in Nottinghamshire.

The name of Ohio is an Iroquois Indian word meaning "beautiful river." Besides the state and river there are counties in Indiana, Kentucky and West Virginia bearing this name.

Zanesville bears the name of Ebenezer Zanes, who, with John McIntire, founded the city.

Marietta was named for Queen Marie Antoinette of France.

Cambridge was named from the town in Maryland, each being situated on a Will's creek.

Canal Dover took its name from the city in New Jersey and from its location on the Ohio canal.

Coshocton was named from the Delaware Indian town of Goshocking. The word means, according to some authorities, "habitation of owls." Other authorities give "union of waters" or "finished small harbor."

Lancaster had its name transferred from the county in England. Martine Ferry was named for the family who established the ferry there.

Of the rivers, Muskingum is a Delaware Indian word, meaning "moose-eye river," so called because of the number of moose and elk that inhabited the country.

Warmest November in Number of Years

November 1 was certainly a record breaker. It was the first day, just missed, that the weather record books have remained in contact during 1 month.

But in one of the last days of the month, yesterday, it was so warm that the maximum was 61. In 1908 it was 59. The total amount of rain which has fallen during the month came close to the record. Not including the amount which fell between 7 o'clock and midnight on Sunday, the total was 3.44 inches. In 1908 it was 3.41 inches. There have been instances where 4 inches of rain have fallen during November, but the normal is 3.11. The normal temperature at this time of the year is 57 degrees.

The rain which fell on Sunday, was general throughout the central United States, from Missouri to Pennsylvania.

and from the lakes almost to the gulf. The weather man has made no promises for fair weather within the next few days.

PUPIL OF PUBLIC SCHOOL AGED 83

ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM.
Lebanon, Missouri, Dec. 1.—This city lays claim to the distinction of having the oldest public school pupil in Missouri, if not in all the United States. "Aunt" Mary Long, a negro, has started out to acquire an education at the age of eighty-three. With a score of other negroes, who passed half century marks, she is learning A-B-C's in a recently organized night school class. "Aunt" Mary is physically spry, mentally alert and the star pupil of the class.

Join Egg Boycott.

ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM.
St. Paul, Minn., Dec. 1.—St. Paul housewives today joined in the national boycott on eggs. Mrs. D. W. McCourt, president of the local branch of the National Housewives league, announced that more than 2000 women of St. Paul already have joined in the movement and that several thousand more are expected to give their support within the next two days.

Aiding the Poor the Only Way For the Rich to Be Happy

By Cardinal GIBBONS of Baltimore
THE PRINCIPAL BLESSING POSSESSED BY THE WEALTHY IS THEIR ABILITY TO AID THE POOR.

There can be NO PLEASURE by the wealthy NOR ENJOYMENT OF THEIR WEALTH unless they aid those less fortunate. Their money means only to them WHAT THEY CAN DO WITH IT. That one way is to relieve the distress of the poor, to feed the hungry, to care for the homeless and to aid God's work.

WEALTH INVOLVES A VERY DEEP RESPONSIBILITY. A man is only the trustee of what he possesses, and he must in the final accounting explain his stewardship. It is the duty of the wealthy to sympathize with and aid the poor and the suffering, and if they SHIRK THAT DUTY they must in the end account for it.

THE POOR LIKEWISE HAVE A DUTY. They should be reconciled to their position and bear up, resigning themselves to God's will. They should do the best they can by GIVING THEIR BEST SERVICES TO THE BETTERMENT OF THE COMMUNITY AND LIVE WITH THE WEALTHY IN HARMONY.

You can't always tell. Many a man suffers from hives who has never been stung by a bee in his life.

The good dye young, especially if they happen to be red-headed.

Many a man's success merely means that the world has taken him at his own valuation.

All ships carry logs, whether they happen to be lumber vessels or not.

Tariff Revision Not Causing Soup Houses in Massachusetts
A New Bedford, Mass., newspaper is worried by the comments it sees on the good dividends paid by the cotton mills. Well, of course, things may be different a year hence, but these good dividends have been paid in the year of a Democratic election, a Democratic inauguration and Democratic "financing with the tariff." A year ago the Republicans were telling us that soup houses would be the only places of business open by this time. A New Bedford dispatch to the New York Journal of Commerce complains that cotton mill stocks are neglected by the investing public, but it adds significantly that "the fact that there are no offerings whatever in the shares of some of the older mills indicates that the tone of feelings among the holders of some of these shares is better than it was a few months ago, when the tariff bill was pending in congress."

Eating Your Meals.
A perfect digestion is the secret of the buoyancy and vitality of a really healthy man. The state of your body and mind at the time you partake of a meal are a big feature as to the ultimate good the food will do you. If physically and mentally tired always rest for at least ten minutes before eating. Bad temper is enough to give you indigestion, while cheerful company and interesting talk causes the muscles and juices of the stomach to work properly. It seems incredible that such ulterior forces should be of importance, but science will not be denied. Sooner than eat when not properly hungry, miss a meal. Never take food more than three times a day; you will soon accustom you to this habit. Take your meals in a well ventilated room.

Ehrlich and His Books.
Nobody ever dares disturb the systematic chaos of Professor Ehrlich's library. Once he lent a man some books and received others in return. One day, long afterward, Ehrlich's books came back with a note from his friend, saying he had married, moved and cleaned up his library. Ehrlich replied: "I congratulate you on your marriage and thank you for sending back my books, but if you think that because you have moved and got married I am going to clear up my library and find your books, you are very much mistaken."—"Men Around the Kaiser."

Careless Wife.
Husband—Where is the hammer? Wife—You had it yesterday. Husband—I'm not asking where it was yesterday. Wife—You had it yesterday, and no one else has had it since. Husband—Huh! Well, if you had the least bit of consideration for my feelings you would have said that hammer for something or other after I had done with it, and then you would know where it is.—"London Express."

Dec. 1 in American History.
1797—Oliver Wolcott, "signer" for Connecticut of the Declaration of Independence, died at Litchfield; born 1726.
1862—President Lincoln recommended to congress a constitutional amendment requiring complete emancipation of the slaves by 1890.
1911—Charles S. Francis, journalist and diplomat, died; born 1853.

Painting Pictures on the Floor.
Albert Moore, the great artist whose works may be seen in the Tate and other public galleries, scorned the ordinary poses of the painter. He preferred his ease to an easel and painted all his great pictures, so dainty and charming, on the floor. His tubes of paint and his brushes and other accessories of his art were scattered about him, and he lay flat on his stomach, seldom remaining in one position five minutes at a time. The celebrated painter of "Christ Leaving the Precincts" and the "Instructor of Milton and Dante," that strange genius, Gustave Dore, had the same habit. The floor was his easel whenever possible, and, as he was a stout, heavy man, he seldom rose to an upright position except for his meals, and not always then.—"London Telegraph."

Edward Young's Tragedy.
In Garrick's time the church had a decided leaning toward the stage. The great actor suffered a plague of stage struck clergymen. He read many of their plays and produced at least one. The Rev. Edward Young of Weymouth parish and of "Night Thoughts" fame wrote a tragedy of "The Two Brothers," which Garrick produced. Its reception was a tragedy. It was only fit to make an iciclehouse of a theater. Young, however, had counted his chickens. He had promised £1,000, the expected proceeds of his author's rights, to the Society for the Propagation of the Gospel. And here he shone. He dipped deeply into his private purse and made up the thousand.—"London Chronicle."

Prevent Diphtheria.
A sore throat is a good breeding place for diphtheria germs. Protect your children by never neglecting a Sore Throat. You can wisely depend upon TONSILINE. Give Tonsiline upon the first appearance of Sore Throat—don't give Diphtheria a chance in that throat in its weakened condition. When TONSILINE is swallowed it comes directly in contact with the diseased surface and induces a healthy condition of the membrane—then the system can better defend the throat if attacked by Diphtheria germs. Keep TONSILINE in the house where you can get it quick when needed. 25c., 50c. and $1.00.

Human Procession
Queen Alexandra, the widow of King Edward VII., will begin her seventieth year today, having been born on December 1, 1844. Half a century has passed since the eldest daughter of the Danish king made her triumphant entry into England as the beautiful bride of the young and lashing Edward, but time has dealt kindly with her, and recent photographs make her appear more like a woman of fifty than of one nearing three score and ten. After the death of King Edward the Dowager Queen spent many months in retirement at Sandringham, and later visited her beloved Denmark, but the last year has found her back in the capital, with Marlborough House as her official residence. There she has apartments that are exact facsimiles of the rooms in which she lived so long at Buckingham Palace. Queen Alexandra has always been fond of flowers, especially the wild varieties, and her boudoir is always pervaded with the sweet scents of the modest "posies" of the countryside. King George visits his mother nearly every evening when both are in the city. The Queen Mother is very fond of dogs, and has a private cemetery where many of her four-footed friends lie buried. A hand-ome statue, executed at the order of Queen Alexandra, marks the grave of the late King's favorite canine pet. Alexandra retains much of the beauty and grace that made her famous in her youth, and it may still be said of her, as it was a half century ago, that "she has as many gallant suitors as there are men in the British empire."

On Second Thought
The only show that never disappears is Uncle Tom's Cabin. It is pretty definitely known that Uncle Tom's Cabin is not a two dollar show.
The aviator who achieves an altitude of 10,000 feet exhibits no special sense of courage. The one who falls two hundred feet is just as dead when he lights.
A man bases his estimate of a meal on the coffee. A woman bases her estimate on the salad.
They talk a good deal about the tiger, but a stock theatrical company, playing in repertoire at ten, twenty and thirty cents the head, is the most fearless thing. A tiger occasionally shows discretion, but a stock company will tackle anything.
A man occasionally looks back upon his youth with a feeling of regret. But the feeling is not inspired by the pants his mother used to make.
A receptive candidate is one who has no chance to be nominated.
Every hobo knows a place where he can get two drinks of whiskey for 15 cents.
A silk hat, a sack coat and a four flusher nearly always are coincident.
A fat woman is one who claims to have weighed 95 pounds when she was married.

Wisdom from Washington
Washington, Dec. 1.—Special.—Senators and representatives suffer more from ridicule than criticism, and yet the senate and house invite such ridicule. Perhaps if put upon the bodices collectively there would not be so much resentment, but applied to individuals it causes more ill feeling against the newspapers than severe criticism of actions.
The manner in which the first session of the Sixty-third congress "pettered out" is funny. Here in Washington the national legislature has staged and enacted a great farce. Both houses have remained in session, although both desired to adjourn. There has been no business transacted for two months that could not have been postponed until the regular session. Congress has simply stayed in farcical session—in a most ridiculous position.
Presidential Power.
The manner in which President Wilson has controlled the legislative branches since he became president is a monument to the power of the man and the office. There has never been anything like it. In the days when Cleveland exerted power there were grumblings and open revolt. Theodore Roosevelt was roundly abused as a "boss," and many members of his party showed their disapproval.
There has been scarcely anything like disapproval during the first session of the Sixty-third congress. All Democrats have applauded their president and acclaimed him the man most like Jefferson that ever sat in the White House. Republican criticism has been tame, insipid and futile. Woodrow Wilson is the hero of the session he called, for he has dominated it.
Two Bold Men.
It would not be fair to history to let the session slip into oblivion without recording the fact that Myers of Montana in the senate and Thomas of Kentucky in the house fought for adjournment with all the force at their command, which was one vote each. Both used every parliamentary expedient to secure a formal adjournment of the session, but were able to command no one but themselves in support of their efforts. Both are Democrats, and they are entitled to all the credit that can be given them for boldly opposing the wishes of the president.

Made Himself Famous.
It is my theory that a man must do something to earn a reputation in the house. Congressman Evans of Montana is one who has done something, and his mail is full of letters of commendation. He attacked the whipping post in Delaware. He couldn't abolish it, couldn't even get action on his resolution, but that is neither here nor there. The fact that he severely criticized the whipping post and published in the official records the newspaper accounts of the suffering of criminals under the lash has brought him into the spot light. Do something different if you want to come to the front in congress.

"Breaking Precedents."
Because President Wilson has done a great many things that his predecessors did not do there seems to be a sort of conviction that the administration is breaking precedents at every

Deadly Divorce Evil Threatens Very Life of the Nation
By Representative GEORGE W. EDMONDS of Pennsylvania
As the divorce evil by its rapid and widespread growth in the United States has become so deadly that it threatens not only the moral health, but the very life of the nation, I favor an amendment to the constitution of the United States to AUTHORIZE UNIFORM LAWS on the subject of marriage and divorce and to provide penalties for enforcement.
The divorce laws of our various states today BREED THE VERY WORST OF MORAL DISEASES.
In the year 1913 it may safely be said that ONE HUNDRED THOUSAND DIVORCES WERE GRANTED, and it is conservative to say that one hundred thousand children, mostly under ten years of age, were made divorce orphans, being deprived of one or both parents.
This country is one hundred and thirty-seven years old, a comparatively young nation. It should have many grand centuries ahead of it. But nations, like individuals, can contract diseases which if not immediately eradicated will mean DESTRUCTION. Our country may be likened to the youth who is blessed with a good heritage and large fortune, but whose lustful desires soon end a bright and promising career.
NO NATION ON EARTH HAS BEEN SO BOUNTIFULLY BLESSED IN EVERY RESPECT AS OUR OWN. ITS PRESERVATION, HOWEVER, DEPENDS UPON THE PRESERVATION OF THE HOME AND FIRESIDE. IF UPON EVERY LITTLE PRETEXT A MAN OR WOMAN CAN BE PERMITTED TO SEVER THE MOST SACRED OF CONTRACTUAL RELATIONS—THE MARITAL RELATION—WHICH SEVERANCE IS MADE EASY BY THE INCONSISTENCIES OF THE LAWS OF FORTY-EIGHT DIFFERENT STATES, OUR COUNTRY WILL SOON DECAY.

Such was the announcement when Secretary McAdoo appeared on the floor of the senate during the consideration of the currency bill. It was said that such action was unprecedented. Absolute bosh! Cabinet officers have been on the floor frequently during all administrations when something in which they were particularly interested was considered.
Postmaster General Hitchcock was a most earnest worker when he was trying to get second class rates increased. Secretary Wilson often came to congress and was on the floor when agricultural matters were considered. If one should look into it with all the facts he would find that it has been quite a common occurrence for cabinet officers to be on the floor of the senate and house when the legislation considered concerned their departments.
Owen's Lieutenant.
It is quite apparent that Senator Shafroth of Colorado is to be Chair man Owen's lieutenant during the consideration of the currency bill. Shafroth is a man who keeps steadily on any job he undertakes, and he has attempted to see the currency bill through.
Senator Hitchcock, Owen's opponent, will be alone on his side. For all his supporters on the committee are Republicans. But there are frequent consultations between them. All of the Republicans are expected to take considerable interest in the currency discussion.

Old Grocer Griggs sold me some figs and called them fresh and sweet; but they were old and full of mold, they were not fit to eat. I gave the pigs those nearly figs and even the porkers balked; each smelled the fruit with wrinkled snout, and acted badly shocked. Then I told Jones in caustic tones about those figlets stale, and he told Brown, who went through town distributing the tale.
Oh, Brown told Smith, and the forth with told Black and White and Green, and they told Jinks, and he, methinks, told ten or seventeen. And so those figs I bought from Griggs kicked up a famous fuss, and people cried: "That blamed old snide will get no coin from us!" Now, here my rede! Each crooked deed gets just that kind of fame; each little fraud is spread abroad, till people hoot your name. You cannot beat a man or cheat, but that you suffer worst; and every time you sneak a dime, your fame's set back a verst. Thus Grocer Griggs, by selling figs unseemly and unfit, made seven cents, but many gents who dealt with him have quit.

LOCAL EXHIBITS ADD INTEREST TO AGRICULTURAL MEETINGS
Anything that helps to get up competition between the people of a community in the way of exhibiting live stock or farm and home products adds interest to an agricultural meeting and benefits derived from it are greater. This is the report of the instructors from the College of Agriculture who conducted 11 Farmers' Fall Festivals in southern Ohio towns recently. As an example, in one town where a small street fair was held, and farm, home and kitchen products exhibited, the best meeting of the series was conducted, and more than 1500 people were in attendance. The festivals, started this year for the first time by the college, were held under a variety of conditions. Some trouble was experienced in the moving of the agricultural exhibit as the meetings lasted but two days in each town and with few exceptions no days elapsed between meetings. However, most of them were successful, the best being where the enthusiasm of the local people was great enough to insure a large crowd. Fruit growing and stock raising were the subjects discussed largely by the instructors.

ENGLISH HUSBANDS
ABUSE THEIR RICH
AMERICAN SPOUSES

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
London, Dec. 1.—A divorce was granted to Mrs. Ida M. French, daughter of Robert J. Wynne of Washington, D. C., former American counsel general in London and ex-postmaster general, on grounds of infidelity and cruelty on the part of her husband, Captain Hugh Ronald French, of the Fourth battalion (territorial) of the Yorkshire regiment and formerly of the Seventh dragoon guards. Mrs. French was given the custody of the child of the marriage under an agreement to produce it in court whenever required. On the witness stand Mrs. French testified that her husband had beaten her on several occasions and had dragged her about the room because she refused to get up at 4 or 5 o'clock in the morning to entertain his boon companions. He had also kicked her while she was lying on a rug in front of the fire.

The petitioner's sister, Mrs. Frank A. Smith, and other witnesses corroborated the evidence.

Testimony as to the charge of infidelity of Captain French was then given and the name of Miss Marie C. Beach, a Canadian chorus girl was mentioned.

No defense was offered and Captain French neither appeared nor was represented by counsel. The marriage took place in London on June 17, 1909.

SQUIRREL HUNTERS SEEK PENSIONS AND
OTHER LEGISLATION

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Columbus, Dec. 1.—Former Governor Judson Harmon made affidavit that James W. Auten of Cincinnati, served with him as a "squirrel hunter" in 1862, in an application filed with the adjutant general's department today to have Auten enrolled on the official squirrel hunter's record.

Under the law enacted by the legislature two years ago those who performed service as squirrel hunters and whose names are not shown on the official records, can get them on by affidavit. This method was provided to take care of a situation at Cincinnati which furnished many squirrel hunters who are not shown in the records because the muster rolls were not sent to Columbus after the companies, in which they served were disbanded.

The squirrel hunters were in "action" one month and for this state is allowing them $13. This money is paid after proper application is filed. The squirrel hunters were called out by Governor Tod to repel a threatened invasion by Confederate General Kirby Smith, which never materialized. For this service squirrel hunters want the state to give them a monthly pension of $5 and the right to go to the state soldiers' home.

DECEMBER RECORDS

JURY SECURED
IN CRAIG CASE;
11 ARE FARMERS

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Shelbyville, Ind., Dec. 1.—Mr. Wm. B. Craig today sat in the little courtroom here where he is on trial for his life, before a jury consisting almost entirely of farmers, and heard himself denounced as the slayer of Dr. Helene Knabe by Ephram Inman, attorney representing the Indianapolis council of women. The jury was completed at the forenoon session and after recess, Mr. Inman began outlining the state's case.

"As one of the misfortunes of the case, the state will be able to bring no eye witnesses to this crime," said Mr. Inman. "We will be obliged before you a train of circumstances, all pointing not only in the direction of murder, but in the direction of Dr. Wm. B. Craig, as the guilty man."

"There will be no direct proof of an engagement between Dr. Craig and Dr. Knabe to marry but circumstances will be overwhelming in that direction. She made a trip to New York and bought articles in contemplation of marriage. She made it known to friends that she had a love affair with a man who was of a violent disposition and ungovernable temper. Dr. Craig was a time just before Dr. Knabe's death when circumstances indicated that she discovered Dr. Craig's determination to break his apparent engagement to marry her. He began associating with other women and this impressed Dr. Knabe that he intended to marry the other woman."

"Circumstances will point unmistakably to Craig's affection for Dr. Knabe at a time before her death," continued Inman.

"We will show that he even peeped into her windows in the nighttime. Suggestion has been made by the defense about possible suicide. We will show that Dr. Knabe's life was hopeful and cheerful, that she was in love with her work and gave no manifestation of despondency."

"On the night of the murder Dr. Craig was seen near the premises within a little while before the murder necessarily occurred," he declared.

"Dr. Craig has indulged in a system of making engagements with women and breaking them," said Mr. Inman. "He wronged a high school girl and refused to marry her. He did the same thing with another girl and afterwards compromised with her."

Describing the wound in Dr. Knabe's neck, he said the character of it indicated that the man who made it was a surgeon and knew how to use the knife to avoid the arteries and cut the veins so death would follow without the spurting of blood."

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Shelbyville, Ind., Dec. 1.—A jury was completed today to try Dr. Wm. B. Craig for the murder of Dr. Helene Knabe. All but one are farmers. The twelfth juror is a section hand.

USED NEWARK MAN'S
NAME TO VICTIMIZE
COLUMBUS MERCHANTS

Two Columbus merchants were victims last Friday of a confidence man who used the name of J. H. Orr of Newark, to get fur valued at $250. The Butterworth company is still hunting for a set of furs worth $125 and the Green-Joyce company, fortunately was able to recover the two pieces secured at their store and are out nothing but the express charges.

According to the story related to the local police a man claiming to be Mr. Orr, picked out a fine set of furs and asked permission to take them out on approval. This was denied him and the salesman agreed to ship them by express if they found his credit satisfactory.

The purchaser handed the salesman his card, which bore the name "J. H. Orr, County Commissioner, Licking county, Ohio."

"This is my card," he said, "and I do my banking at the Franklin National at Newark." He also referred the salesman to several Columbus people, among whom was J. H. Chief Charles Carter. All these references pronounced J. H. Orr all right and the furs were shipped.

At the Butterworth store the same formality was gone through with except that the man succeeded in getting possession of the merchandise, which is still missing. This property was also valued at $125.

When the goods were not returned to the Butterworth store Saturday, suspicion was aroused and on Sunday

ARE ESTABLISHING RAILWAY TERMINAL OFFICES IN CITIES

(Associated Press Telegram)
Washington, Dec. 1.—To facilitate the handling of parcel post mail, the postoffice department has begun establishment of railway terminal post-offices in other cities having large railway facilities. It is planned to bring the total of such offices up to 150 before the close of next year.

The new offices are planned to obviate the re-handling of this class of mail and to prevent as far as possible delay and misrouting. Under the new plan the packages are put off at the nearest terminal postoffice where they are routed, separately packed and sent forward in baggage cars.

This plan does away with the routing and distribution of parcel post business by mail clerks and gives more room for the handling of first-class mail in these cars. Before the close of the present year, forty-four railway terminal offices will be in operation. This number will be increased to 82 during the first few months of next year.

Railway mail officials estimate there is already being handled as much mail matter as during the last Christmas season.

FUNERAL OF MAN KILLED BY TRAIN HELD YESTERDAY

The funeral of John Settanni, Italian section hand, who was killed by a Pennsylvania train at the Pine street crossing Friday morning, was held Sunday morning at St. Francis de Sales church, Rev. Father O'Boylan officiating. Interment was made in Cedar Hill cemetery. The dead man's name was on the railroad books as Mike Rossi, which name was used in the account of the accident. It was not until the death certificate was issued that the name was correctly given. The interpreter explained that Settanni was pronounced Rossi in English.

CHINESE POSE AS JAPANESE DETECTED BY THEIR WALKING

(Associated Press Telegram)
Boston, Dec. 1.—Because two Orientals struck the deck with the heel first instead of the toe in walking they were detained today by immigration officials who believe they had discovered a widespread plot to smuggle Chinese into this country. The two men posing as Japanese school-boys, arrived from Hamburg on the Hamburg-American liner Hamburg. With their interpreter, who gave his name as Tokai Marutani, a Japanese merchant, they were detained pending an investigation by United States District Attorney A. P. French.

The suspicion of keen-eyed inspectors was directed towards two of the suspects by the manner of their walk. A Japanese, the inspectors say, strike the toe first in walking, and a Chinaman strikes the heel.

The inspectors found several discrepancies in the stories of the two men and say they finally admitted that they were Chinese.

Marutani, the officials say, admitted he had been in this country before. An investigation of the records showed he was then accompanied by three other "Japanese."

A Jolly Feature for a Party

A jolly feature for a party, especially for a mid-winter affair, is known as "Nuts to Crack."

If this feature is to be the principal diversion of the evening, or of the dinner or luncheon,—if the function takes this form,—the nut idea can be carried into the decorations. If planned for sufficiently in advance, chest-nut burrs while they are fresh and green can be gathered and grouped prettily where their prickles will do no damage; and branches of nut trees, especially if their leaves are beginning to turn, can also be used. Of course, nuts should be placed about where they will make a pretty decorative note. And it would also be wise to place nut bowls and other dainty little dishes handy for the shells, for it is quite likely that the nuts will soon disappear.

If the affair is a luncheon—and this is one of the prettiest ways in which to use the idea for entertainment, the decorative scheme for the table carries out the idea of the amusement itself.

English walnuts are cracked, so that the shells open evenly, and the kernels are removed. In place of the nut-meats is tucked in a tiny slip of paper on which is written a conundrum. The paper should be the very thin, easily-folded kind such as is used for foreign correspondence, though this quality can be found in other grades of paper. One doesn't need to pay the price of stationery for foreign letter writing. After the conundrum is placed in the shell the two halves are fastened together with ribbon, the end of which is left long enough to reach to the centre of the table. On this end is fastened another nut containing the answer. A shell containing a conundrum is placed at each place, with the ribbon stretching to the center and fastened to the nut containing the answer. The nuts in the centre are arranged prettily with autumn leaves or fruits or flowers, to make as gay and elaborate a centerpiece as may be desired.

During the course of the meal the nuts at the plates are opened and the conundrums read. Each guesses the answer to his own if he can, and volunteers answers to others if so desired. But it is not until the end of the meal that the shells containing the answers are drawn, and the correct answer read. If the answer can be sketched, it adds to the interest of the affair, and makes all the prettier souvenir.

All sorts of conundrums can be propounded. "When is a lady's arm not a lady's arm?" and the answer, "When it is a little bare," is a sample. The reply would be simply a sketch of a little bear. If the answers are sketched the sketches add to the fun, for sometimes it takes a few minutes to "catch on" to them.

If the idea is to be used for an evening party the nuts containing the conundrums can be given to the guests, and the nuts at the other end of the ribbons, hidden. And the winding course of each piece of ribbon must be followed until the end is found.

The decorative effect is very good, whether the idea is carried out for a luncheon or dinner or for an evening party. And as an amusement, it is sure to make a lot of fun.

JAMES WHITCOMB RILEY IN FLORIDA IN SEARCH OF HEALTH

James Whitcomb Riley, the poet, whose health is broken, has been taken to Florida, where it is believed the mild climate will prolong his life during the winter. The poet has been in poor health for some years, and lately he has reached a condition where he found it impossible to stand the cold of the north.

This photograph of him was taken last month. It is, therefore, the latest, and it shows him an aged man. He has changed considerably since the days when he charmed the whole world with his Hoosier verse.

Six Train Loads of Ohio Corn Boys Will Leave Today For Washington

Seven Licking county champion corn-growers, decked out in brand-span-new khaki uniforms, will board a special train at the Pennsylvania station this evening at 7 o'clock, bound for sight-seeing trip to Pittsburgh, Washington and Philadelphia, with all expenses paid by generous Licking county business men, as a reward for their effort in showing the productive possibilities of Licking county soil.

The party will consist of the following winners, out of fourteen contestants entered in this county:

Homer Orr, Franklin township; Arthur Tharp, Union township; George O. Wilson, Newton township; Walter S. Blamer, Monroe township; Bryan Geiger, Union township; Norman Sharer, Union township, and Frank C. Kirts, Jersey township.

The trip is awarded by the Licking County Commissioners, Licking County Agricultural Society, Roe Emerson, Newark; A. L. Norton and Dr. F. E. Corkwell, Newark; directors of the Newark Trust company, directors of the Park National bank, Newark, and directors of the Granville Bank, Granville.

The trip offered by Congressman W. A. Ashbrook to the "boy corn-grower making the best showing in the Seventeenth district, was won by Willard Laughlin of Nellie, Coshocton county.

The party will be accompanied by H. B. Claggett, W. R. Geiger, T. A. Duckworth of Johnstown, and J. M. Farmer of Newark. Governor Cox will be aboard the train through Newark.

The six special train loads of Ohio corn boys will meet in Pittsburgh early Tuesday morning and will take breakfast at the Fort Pitt hotel, where a partition has been removed to accommodate all of the Ohio boys at one sitting.

After a sight-seeing ride around Pittsburgh the boys will pay a visit to the H. J. Heinz plant, where they will be entertained at luncheon. At 12:30 p. m. the party departs for Harrisburg, where arrival is scheduled for 6:30 p. m. A reception and banquet by the Harrisburg board of trade and citizens are to be followed by a reception by Governor Tener at the capitol. At 12:30 a. m. in the party will leave Harrisburg for Washington.

On arrival in Washington at 6 a. m. the boys will be taken to their hotels, and after breakfast they will march to the capitol, assembling at the east entrance, where the party will be divided into four sections for an auto tour of the city, a tour of the capitol building, tour of the congressional library and a tour of the botanical gardens. In the afternoon a trip by boat down the Potomac to Mt. Vernon and the tomb of Washington will be a feature. At night a reception will be tendered the boys by Secretary Bryan, members of congress and other prominent officials.

Thursday the sight-seeing tour will be continued and in the afternoon the boys will be received by President Wilson, after which the "movie" men will take pictures of the boys "in action." At 10 p. m. they depart for Philadelphia, arriving there at 6 a. m. to spend the day visiting many of the points of greatest interest in connection with the earlier days of this country. The return trip to Pittsburgh and home, will start from Philadelphia at 11 p. m. Friday.

A band will accompany the boys throughout their trip. Governor Cox, and his son, James M. Cox, Jr., will be prominent members of the escorting party.

On board will be the boys and girls who are going to make a new era in Ohio farm life. More than 800 winners in the boys' corn-growing contest, 300 winners in the girls' home-making contests and some 900 others weren't so lucky as to get prizes but are being sent at the expense of their own families and friends, make up the delegation to see Washington and the president of the United States.

Every boy in the bunch succeeded in raising nearly twice as much corn per acre as his father has been raising. Some of them raised three times as much. And right on the same old farms their daddies and granddaddies have been cultivating for decades, too!

The average farmer in Ohio raises 37 bushels of corn to the acre.

Arnett Ross, grand prize winner of this year's corn-growing contest, produced 131.7 bushels of corn on his test plot of one acre, with its little 18-inch border.

Nearly 2600 boys in all parts of the state entered the contest for the free trip to Washington. Over 800 produced enough corn to qualify as winners. Although the boys averaged 77 bushels apiece per acre, which is 40 bushels more than the average Ohio farmer is getting.

They've demonstrated what can be done and have pointed the way to the agricultural possibilities of Ohio farms.

"ELECTRIC MULES" AT PANAMA.

Along the locks of the Panama canal runs a towpath of steel and concrete, the counterpart of the mule track of our old inland waterways. An enormous pulling force is, of course, required to draw the great steamers through these locks, and the work is performed by powerful electric locomotives, or "electric mules," as they are known in the isthmus. The engines climb from one level to another among the locks by means of a system of coys placed in the center of the track. These engines, as shown in the accompanying illustration, are very compact, business-like looking affairs. The group of Americans watching its progress up the incline in the accompanying photograph is a party of tourists visiting the canal on the steamship Victoria Louise of the Hamburg American Line. No steamer will be allowed to proceed in this section of the canal under its own power since a mistake on the part of the pilot might injure the locks.

"A Butterfly on the Wheel"

With the endorsement of long runs in London and New York, "A Butterfly on the Wheel" will have its first presentation here Thursday, December 4, when it is seen at the Auditorium being interpreted by a specially selected cast gathered together with great care. Never was more intense interest displayed when this play was brought from London and presented before a New York audience. Opinions were divided as to its success in this country until the opening night, when all doubts were removed by the warmth of the reception accorded not only the company but every bit of the play.

A commendable thing about "A Butterfly on the Wheel" is the fact that interest progresses. The really "big scene" shows the interior of a courtroom where occurs the trial of "Peggy Winston," who is sentenced to divorce by her husband, a member of parliament. The scene is highly effective, not only in the material features of its presentation but in its admirable performance.

The character of "Peggy" in fact, of her frivolity is really a lovely specimen of a butterfly fluttering about the stage until the purpose of her lover and her husband's discovery that they (the man who is named co-respondent and Peggy) were together in a Paris hotel made her serious. In the scene of the trial the character denotes a moving succession of helplessness and the desperate chances against her, while her lover in her struggles to get a hearing against such odds, her pathetic outbursts in the courtroom and her final announcement to commit herself, followed by her physical collapse, creates a sympathy that grows stronger when it is seen how the effort's prove to clear herself of guilt.

"Everywoman," written by the world's greatest living dramatic and literary author of "Hered," "Hansel," and "Ulysses," was chosen to localize the fourth act of the dramatic spectacle. "Everywoman," for the production at Theatre Royal, Drury Lane, London. The fourth act is the original manuscript of the play occurs on Broadway, New York, one time being New York's own. In the English production, "Everywoman" becomes "Piccadilly," and will be seen here with Mr. Savage's only company and in the hands of several of the creators of the play. Besides there is a small army of supernumeraries.

FRENCH HILAR PIPES PRIZE

Will Be Given This Week With LUCKY STRIKE Tobacco.

In connection with the sale of Lucky Strike in this city, local dealers are giving free, for a few days, to each purchaser of a 50c glass humidor of Lucky Strike, a high grade pipe of genuine imported French Briar. The bowls are made of selected root beautifully grained and highly polished. The bit is made of the best vulcanite. These pipes will prove an addition to any man's collection as they are strictly high class, the grade of pipe which breaks in easily and improves with smoking.

Of the popular high grade pipe tobacco, Lucky Strike was the first in the field. From the time of its first appearance, the manufacturers of Lucky Strike have been steadily striving to put it into more convenient form for the consumption of pipe smokers, while consistently maintaining its high grade, mild, fragrant qualities. It was first made as a plug, from which smokers sliced it—then it was found advisable to put it out in slice form ready to be rolled and put into the pipe—and now it goes to the smoker in ideal form in rolled cut.

ENTIRE HILLSIDE WILL BE REMOVED TO PREVENT SLIDE

Washington, Dec. 1.—To prevent future earth slides into Cuba cut at Caceres on the Panama canal, the engineers are preparing to remove an entire hillside at that point. Dredges already are at work on this project, according to information reaching the Isthmian canal commission here.

Removal of the hillside was made necessary by the extreme plastic nature of the earth which caused the dirt to slide into the cut almost as fast as it was taken out by the dredges. The dredges have advanced a channel 50 to 100 feet wide and about 20 feet deep from the northern end about 600 feet southward and almost to the point of greatest obstruction. Other dredges are working through the slide from the south and have reached a point 450 feet from the dredges coming from the north.

HOW TO KEEP ACTIVE

When Old Age Overtakes Us. Mrs. John Widmayer of Jackson, Mich., says: "Although 69 years of age, and naturally, because of my advanced age, in an enfeebled condition, I can truthfully say that Vinol has done wonders to keep me as active as I am. It is the best medicine to create strength that I ever saw. This spring I was very much run down and worn out but I took Vinol and soon felt stronger and able to work about the house. I can recommend Vinol as a very invigorating tonic."

Should the system get run down—digestive organs weak—the blood thin and sluggish—take Vinol, which is a delicious combination of the medicinal—body-building properties of cod's livers, with the useless grease eliminated and tonic iron added. We regard Vinol as one of the greatest body-builders and strength creators in the world for aged people.

We wish every feeble person in this vicinity would try Vinol on our agreement to return their money if it fails to give satisfaction. Frank D. Hall, Druggist, Newark, Ohio. P. S. If you have any skin trouble try Saxo Salve. We guarantee it.

REDUCTION IN ALLOWANCE OF OFFICE HIRE

Commissioners Act After Receiving
Instructions From the State Tax Commission.

County Commissioners and County Auditor Hursley are considering over the order emanating from the state tax commission, which cites mandatory portions of the statutes requiring a general reduction in annual allowances of the county auditor's office for clerk and deputy hire, since part of the work of the office is turned over to the county tax commission, under the new law. Commissioners have acted, reducing the allowance for county sealer and auditor's deputies and clerks to a total of $3,000.

Auditor Hursley believes he cannot procure competent clerks in his office for this allowance.

The statute under which allowances are made for the county auditor, provides that on November 20, each year, all officials must file a statement of their requirements for clerk and deputy hire for the ensuing year, and that within five days thereafter the county commissioners shall make the allowance for such purposes.

The first allowance under this provision was in 1906, when the auditor received $1,500. The amount was increased to $2,000 in 1907, to $2,500 in 1908, to $2,500 in 1909, to $3,000 in 1910, to $3,000 in 1911, to $3,000 in 1912, to $3,000 in 1913, to $3,000 in 1914, to $3,000 in
